

DAVID CLEGG talks on archivedestruct: Christchurch 2006

WEDNESDAY 2 AUGUST 2006, 6PM
THE PHYSICS ROOM
FREE

David Clegg will discuss his project archivedestruct: Christchurch 2006 within the broader context of his artistic practice. archivedestruct is an ongoing documentation project using audio and image recordings from the urban environment that are presented in the gallery as an interactive information space. A large table is provided where users can examine the archive as it reorganises and renews itself in response to its new location. Centered on the moving body, the recordings function as a scanning device that can activate memories and imaginative responses to everyday events that are otherwise transitory or discarded.
