New Super Turbo Warriors presents a generative, digital animation; utilizing video game development software as its toolset. The work re-creates a hypothetical dreamscape, exploring the notion of artificial consciousness in neo-modern robotics.

NSTW is an intermedia exploration of pulsating shape and image. Endo draws on the sensory vibrations of colour field painting, through to the movement of scratch film—collapsing these sources digitally.

Sound artist Adam Willetts has collaborated with Endo, producing a score for NSTW.

An exhibition catalogue will be launched at the opening.
